

SORIN CRISTESCU, PhD, is a scientific researcher (grade III) within the Institute for Political Studies of Defence and Military History in Bucharest, department of military history, since 2017.

He graduated the Faculty of Industrial Chemistry at the Politehnica University of Bucharest in 1991 and then the Faculty of History at the University of Bucharest in 1997 and obtained the PhD in history in 2004 for a work examining the personal correspondence of King Carol I (1878-1912)

For almost two decades, he was a lecturer at the “Spiru Haret” University in Bucharest.

The main area of interest is the modern history of Romania, with an emphasis on military history and diplomatic relations.

He published almost 40 volumes of historical sources, university courses, translations of memoirs and of various papers from German, French and English, as well as a series of studies in the Review of Military History (edited by the Institute for Political Studies of Defence and Military History) and in other periodicals.