

TUDOR VIȘAN-MIU is a scientific researcher within the Institute for Political Studies of Defense and Military History, Department of Military History.

He graduated the courses of the University of Bucharest's Faculty of History's History Program, in 2018, and has a master's degree in Modern History, in 2020. Currently, he is a PhD student.

His research interests include the history of mentalities, institutional history and biographies.